

Stone Spa

Winner of “Best Luxury Wellness Spa” and in 2015 “Best Emerging Spa” by the Best Luxury Spa Awards, Stone Spa is implanted in an ancient olive oil mill and dug in a quarry, Alentejo Marmóris Stone Spa Hotel is a unique refuge to enjoy true moments of evasion and wellness.

Immerse yourself in a relaxing and unforgettable experience, where the power and magnetism of the marble transport to other place where the details will surprise you every time.

Entering in the Stone Spa is an unforgettable experience, that clears our senses to the beauty of the stone that adorns its original walls.

Forget the outside world, and embark on an imaginary voyage, like a character from the books of Julio Verne.

The beauty and strength of its original walls, the authentic trickle of the water and the initial formation of small stalactites make its atmosphere absolutely unique.

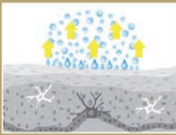

The Spa has 4 treatment rooms (2 double), an indoor and outdoor pool heated, swimming pool with whirlpool circuit, pool with massage beds and hammam that compound the perfect background for your relaxation.

Karin Herzog - THE STORY OF THE BRAND

The Karin Herzog brand originated from the experience of Dr Paul Herzog, a highly reputed Swiss professor and researcher, and his wife, Kacosmetolo. In 1974, following several years of research into oxygen and its beneficial effects, Dr. Paul Herzog developed a formula to stabilize oxygen in an emulsion. This major innovation in the area of skincare gave rise to a unique ingredient: active oxygen.

Active oxygen normalize the functions of the epidermis and makes it possible to work on cutaneous imbalance. Combined with vitamin A, these two elements boost natural collagen production and as such regulates the functions of the epidermis, making it possible to prevent and reduce the signs of ageing and combat skin conditions.

To date no other skincare brand has such a command of active oxygen in terms of research and cosmetic application, making Karin Herzog the leading brand worldwide for active oxygen skincare with world wide patents.

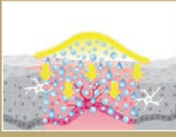

OXYGEN EFFECT ON THE SKIN

The oxygen applied to the skin is transformed into gas and creates a pressure which pushes it under the skin. So, the skin is:

- Oxygenated
- Hydrated
- Revitalized
- Cleared of its impurities

For every molecule of oxygen, 2 molecules of water are created.
